

New Books

Created by: Jennifer Schumacher

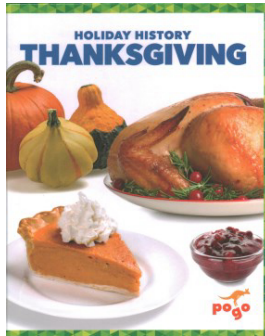

The sun : the center of our solar system

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 7 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the Sun's unique characteristics . . . [along with its] defining features, composition, gravity, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

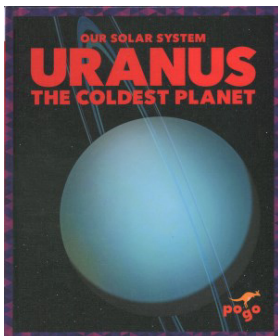

Thanksgiving

Spanier, Kristine.

E 394. 2 SPA

"Early fluent readers will learn about the history of Thanksgiving, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including giving thanks, celebrating the harvest, and preparing a feast for family and friends, and how it and similar holidays are celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

Uranus : the coldest planet

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 4 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about Uranus' unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the planet's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

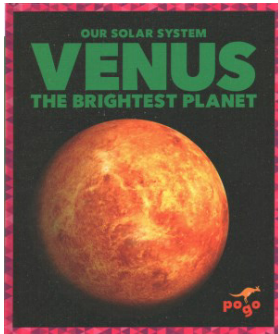

Valentine's Day

Spanier, Kristine.

E 394. 2618 SPA

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Valentine's Day, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including making and sending valentines, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

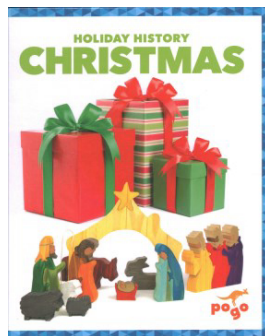

Venus : the brightest planet

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 42 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about Venus' unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the planet's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

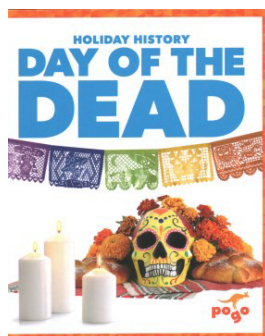

Christmas

Spanier, Kristine.

E 394. 26 SPA

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Christmas, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

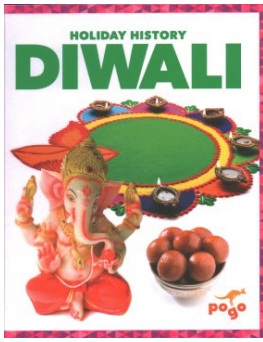

Day of the dead

Oviedo, Claudia.

E 394. 266 OVI

"Learn about the history of Day of the Dead, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including setting up altars, making sugar skulls and papel picado, and visiting cemeteries and graves of loved ones, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

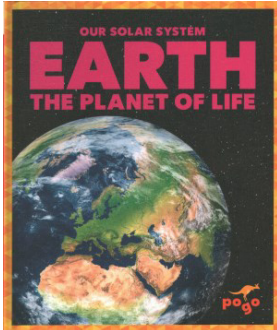

Diwali

Nayar, Nandini.

E 394. 265 NAY

"Learn about the history of Diwali, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including making sweets, worshipping gods, and lighting diyas, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

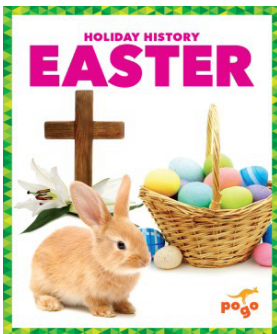

Earth : the planet of life

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 525 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about planet Earth's unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the planet's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, and more"--Provided by publisher.

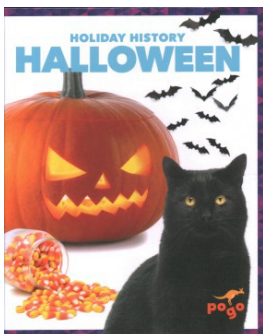

Easter

Spanier, Kristine.

E 394. 26 SPA

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Easter, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including dyeing Easter eggs, egg hunts, religious services, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

Halloween

Spanier, Kristine.

E 394. 2646 SPA

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Halloween, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including trick-or-treating, candy, and costumes, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

Hanukkah

Berne, Emma Carlson, 1979-

E 394. 267 BER

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Hanukkah, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including lighting a menorah, making traditional foods, and playing games, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

Independence Day

Spanier, Kristine.

E 394. 2634 SPA

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of America's independence, including when, where, and who first celebrated the Fourth of July, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, and how countries around the world celebrate their own independence"--Provided by publisher.

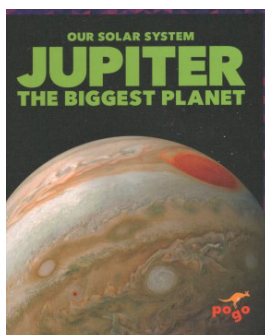

Juneteenth

Miller, J. P. (Janice P.)

E 394. 263 MIL

"Early fluent readers will learn about the history of Juneteenth, including when, where, and who first celebrated Emancipation Day, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, and how African American people around the United States celebrate independence today"--Provided by publisher.

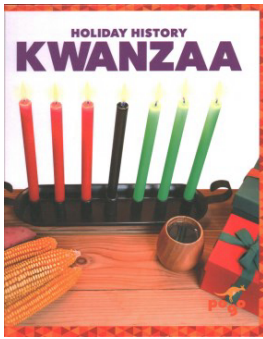

Jupiter : the biggest planet

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 45 SCH

"Learn about Jupiter's unique characteristics. . . . Photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the planet's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

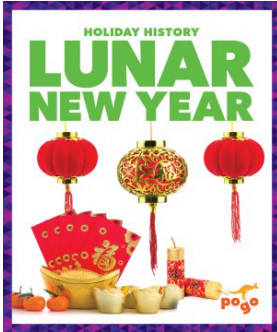

Kwanzaa

Gobin, Shantel.

E 394. 2612 GOB

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Kwanzaa, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including lighting kinara candles, hosting a karamu, and gift-giving, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

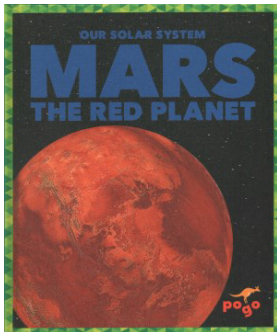

Lunar New Year

Yim, Natasha.

E 394. 261 YIM

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Lunar New Year, including when, where, and who first celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including hanging red lanterns, having reunion dinners, and honoring ancestors, and how it is celebrated in different parts of China and the world today"--Provided by publisher.

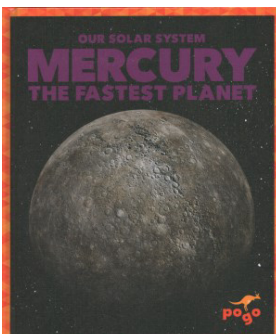

Mars : the red planet

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 4 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about Mars' unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the planet's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

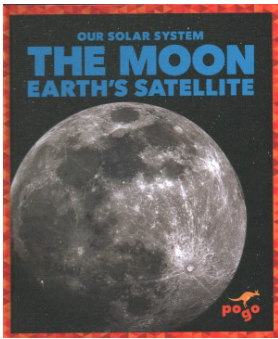

Mercury : the fastest planet

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 4 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about Mercury's unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the planet's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

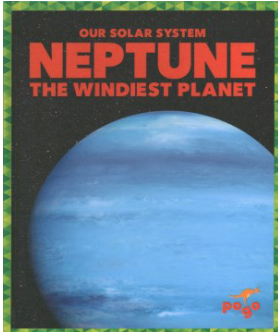

The moon : Earth's satellite

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 3 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the Moon's unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the Moon's defining features, composition, atmosphere, gravity, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

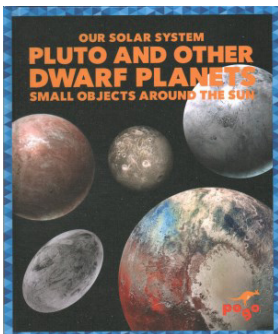

Neptune : the windiest planet

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 4 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about Neptune's unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the planet's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

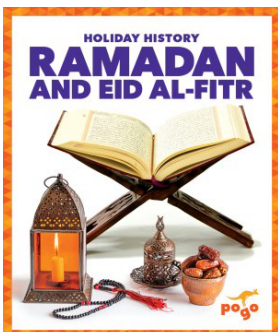

Pluto and other dwarf planets : small objects around the sun

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 4 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about Pluto and other official dwarf planets' unique characteristics . . . [along with] the planets' defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.

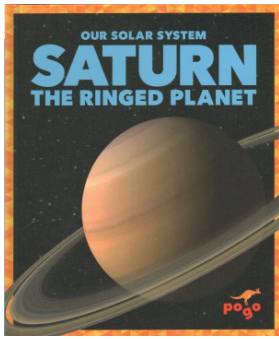

Ramadan and Eid al-Fitr

Abbas, Marzieh.

E 394. 265 ABB

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about the history of Ramadan and Eid al-Fitr, including when, where, and who first observed and celebrated it, its meaning, the traditions associated with it, including fasting, giving to the needy, and preparing an Eid feast, and how it is celebrated in different parts of the world today"--Provided by publisher.

Saturn : the ringed planet

Schuh, Mari C., 1975-

E 523. 4 SCH

"In this book, early fluent readers will learn about Saturn's unique characteristics . . . photos and carefully leveled text engage young readers as they learn more about the Saturn's defining features, composition, atmosphere, weather, gravity, moons, exploration attempts, and more"--Provided by publisher.